Turmeric futures (May) is likely to bounce back towards 7800-7900, taking support near 7500. In the present scenario, continued good domestic demand along with upcountry demand for turmeric in this second wave of coronavirus is supporting the prices. The pandemic has given rise to a new appreciation for fresh turmeric, which is being made into golden-yellow salads, teas and juices. The market participants are also keeping a watch on the sowing progress & the latest statistic show that in Telangana during the year 2020-21, area covered under turmeric was 0.40 lakh hectares as against 0.55 lakh hectares in the corresponding period of last year. Jeera futures (May) is expected to show upside momentum towards 14100-14200, taking support near 13800. Current higher temperature in Rajasthan growing regions like Jodhpur impacted Jeera standing crop quality and supported the prices. Secondly, the arrivals have been coming to mandis at slower speed as the second wave of corona pandemic, has affected the movement due to implementation of lockdown. The Government of Rajasthan has placed mandis in the category of compulsory service in the new corona guideline guide lines, it was decided to sell the new crop of farmers, but after the cases began to rise in the mandis auction work is being postponed. Dhaniya futures (May) is expected to trade sideways in the range of 6600-6750. Pandemic-led lockdowns in many states in order to curb the spread of COVID-19 hit demand for the commodity. There is a record increase in figures in 11 districts of the state including Jaipur, Jodhpur, Kota, Udaipur. Cases of corona infection are coming to prominence in urban areas as well as rural areas.

Oilseeds

Soybean futures (May) is expected to trade sideways in the range of 7150-7350 with upside getting capped. After a surge in soyameal exports in recent months, the shipments are seen slowing down as overseas buyers shun the expensive Indian oilmeal. Now, Indian party are totally out-priced in the international market due to the high soyabean and meal prices. On CBOT, Chicago Board of Trade soybean futures ended firmer on Tuesday on spillover buying from a surging corn market and concerns about tight crop supplies. CBOT July soybeans SN1 settled 14-1/4 cents stronger at $15.38-1/4 per bushel. November soybeans, which represent the crop that will be harvested in the autumn, closed 18-1/2 cents higher at $13.63-1/4 a bushel. New-crop November prices were supported by expectations that farmers will shift some U.S. acres to corn that had previously been intended for soybeans. Mustard futures (May) is likely to sideways in the range of 6950-7100. The upside may remain capped because of weak demand from bulk buyers as they have already purchased the oilseed as per their requirement in the past few days. Prices had risen due to higher demand from millers and crushers amid rising demand for mustard oil, which is considered as an immunity booster. Soy oil futures (May) is expected to remain stable & trade with a positive bias in the range of 1415-1440, while CPO futures (May) will probably trade sideways in the range of 1190-1215 levels. The edible oils in the domestic market are in line with the uptrend of soybean oil on CBOT, which is facing scarcity of availability as the US soybean crush will go down seasonally and demand is likely to go up ahead of US driving season. There is a scarcity of alternate Canadian canola oil in the US markets, and thus soyoil has to meet the food and renewable fuel demand. However, a cautious approach is advised as back at home, the tightening Covid-19 restrictions across the country have hit bulk demand from the hotel, restaurant and catering sectors.

Other Commodities

Cotton futures (May) is expected to consolidate with a downside bias in the range of 21700-21900. The reason being, cotton yarn prices have dropped from the peak seen at the beginning of this year and could decline further from May 1 when a revision in rates is due. Slack demand due to the second wave of coronavirus & declining pace of production in textile mills is impacting yarn offtake. Spinning mills have urged the Centre to allow their units to run without any curbs now. As regards raw material cotton, there is no concern on its availability. CAI has estimated production unchanged from last year at 360 lakh bales. Cotton seed oil cake futures (May) would probably witness selling pressure facing resistance near 2550. The sentiments are weak tracking the spot market, where increase in arrivals of raw cotton weighing on price. In Akola, the key trading centre in Maharashtra, the commodity was sold at 2,750 rupees per 100 kg, as compared to in previous week. A sideways to down price movement in the oilseeds complex is also weighing on prices. Chana futures (May) is likely to take support near 5190, cushioned by ongoing procurement & steady demand. The government has so far bought more than 10% of the 3.25-mln-tn chana procurement target for 2021-22 (Apr-Mar). Nearly 330,000 tn chana has been procured so far and around 220,000 farmers have benefitted from the scheme. Procurement is underway at more than 1,200 centres in Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, Rajasthan, Telangana, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh and Gujarat. Farmers are selling the crop they harvested in 2020-21 (Jul-Jun).
